Ford 4D diesel engine with exposed fuel injection pump drive. On the 4D engine, either a nylon or a rubber coupling will be found as an injection pump drive shaft coupling. The injection pump drive exits the block from the timing gears, through the aforementioned coupling to the injection pump as shown in the picture below.

Find the engine, casting, or part number. Ford places the part number in various locations, depending on the engine. Common locations include the rear of the engine, near the starter mount and bellhousing, on the front of the block's right side (when looking at it from the front), on the left side of in-line-cylinder engines, or by the oil filter mount.

After all, these Ford industrial engines look similar. In fact, they are both made in England at the Ford Dagenham Plant outside of London, are four cylinders, and have the same 254 cubic inch displacement. Moreover, the Ford Dover and Ford Dorset even share the same crankshaft, camshaft, and connecting rods.
